The Berkshire range boasts a rustic painted finish and is susceptible to timber movement, knots and general distressing. Natural markings, small holes and rustic grain variations are apparent throughout this collection, along with colour differences and expanding characteristics in solid or real wood veneer; these are all due to processing and are normal characteristics of the timbers previous usage, not to be considered imperfections.

Due to the nature of manufacturing of this product, and its rustic style, files may sit at a slight angle within the drawers.

Tall cabinets may need fixing to the wall to prevent tipping, most items being marked accordingly.
